(FV Newswire) January 07, 2010 -- Robert Old Menswear has recently introduced a number of new ranges in their Scottish cashmere collection for the 2009/2010 winter season. Robert Old are renowned for producing some of the highest quality men's cashmere knitwear available and the new collections are no exception.

The new styles include Cable V Neck Sweaters with contemporary collegiate striped necklines and cuffs available in 3 colour variations. As well as Jaquard style sweaters with an intricate hounds tooth or diamond two tone pattern, each available in 4 colour variations.

It is important to note that Robert Old's range of men's cashmere is all made in Scotland using the finest quality Cashmere yarns. Cashmere comes in a variety of different qualities and without comparing two garments side by side it can be difficult to understand the differences.

The finest cashmere consists only of the whitest longest hairs whereas lower-quality cashmere is made up from shorter coarser hair and in the worst cases blended with yak or rabbit hair. Robert Old garments are always created from the finest yarns.

In addition all Robert Old cashmere knitwear is knitted with density and tension. This ensures that garments hold their shape well and improve with age. Cashmere connoisseurs know that overly soft and fluffy cashmere when bought will be prone to pilling and poor wear, both signs that shorter hair is likely to have been used in the yarns. Whereas the highest quality garments are likely to feel slightly harder to the touch when new, but will ease well with wear and washing, far outliving inferior garments.

Robert Old's range of men's cashmere is one of the most extensive in the world. Their ranges include many types of sweaters from traditional crew neck and v neck styles to extremely light weight superfine shirts and sweaters that are generally worn under a jacket.

All of Robert Old's cashmere knitwear use specially selected yarns which ensure that the garment has the most wonderful lustre and durability, designed with the most demanding of connoisseurs in mind.

Some of the most unique garments are the Super Premium sweaters and cardigans; these are knitted using 2 ply of 2/28th's yarn. Effectively this is a 4 ply quality and seems almost unique on the market. The super premium sweaters and cardigans come in both classic and chunky styles and are perfect for outdoor winter wear.

In addition to cashmere sweaters and cardigans, Robert Old also stock a large range of men's cashmere scarves and shirts.

Anyone looking for a high quality men's cashmere sweaters and cardigans can be assured that a Robert Old cashmere will impress even the most demanding of connoisseurs.
