

Online Store Devoted to Tactical Pants Launches

TacticalPants.com offers top brands, free shipping, a one-year return policy and more.

(FV Newswire) March 09, 2010 -- TacticalPants.com (<http://tacticalpants.com>) is set to become the No. 1 online destination for tactical trousers. Built from the ground up to meet the needs of public safety officials, the innovative shop offers a superstore selection with major brands such as Propper, Blackhawk, Woolrich, EOTAC and 24-7 Series.

Worn often by those in the law enforcement and public safety industry, tactical pants are available in a variety of colors and styles on TacticalPants.com. These pants feature multiple pockets perfect for holding duty gear such as knives, flashlights and ammunition as well as an assortment of gadgets, from mobile phones to Amazon's Kindle. Select styles even have special features like waterproofing, extra knee padding and added durability.

Along with a world-class selection, TacticalPants.com provides unmatched customer service with free shipping on every order -- no matter the price! And with a 365-day return policy, there's a worry-free guarantee with each purchase. That's right: Customers can buy a pair of pants, and 11 months later, they can simply return it, provided the item is unworn and unwashed. A team of customer service professionals are on hand Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. CST, for telephone or live chat assistance.

Customers already love the custom shopping tools that were built in-house specifically for TacticalPants.com. Each specialized search seamlessly filters through dozens of pants by brand, color, style and fabric in seconds. By simply clicking a box on the shopping page, results are updated instantaneously. With the ability to quickly alter search results, finding the perfect pant is easy.

In addition to the virtual storefront, Tactical Pants Blog (<http://tacticalpants.com/blog>) ventures behind the seams, providing an information hub for the public safety industry. From the latest manufacturer news to candid interviews with police and EMS personnel, the blog keeps readers covered on all aspects of the tactical world.
